Select a suitable mounting location.

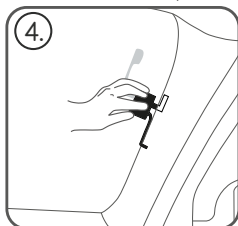

Clean the mounting surface carefully.

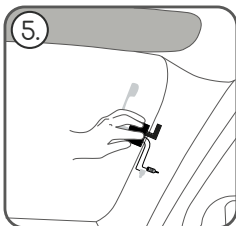

Remove the protective film from the adhesive surface on the back of the amplifier.

Place the amplifier on the desired mounting surface.

Press the antenna into the desired position for 30 seconds and then stick the measuring strip to a metal surface.

Connect the antenna cable and the power supply to the corresponding connections on the radio.

! If the radio supports the power supply via the antenna cable, select this option. If this is not possible, connect the black cable to the 12 V antenna output of the radio.
